Strike 3 vs designated PH envoy to China

By Cathy C. Yau

FOR THE THIRD time, the Commission on Appointments (CA) defied the recommendation of President Aquino to designate Sen. Sergio Osmeña III as Philippine ambassador to China for his failure to answer questions about the Spratly dispute.

Sen. Osmeña III specifically asked last year for about three absences of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS) that China said it did not agree with.

China and the Philippines are among the claimants of all or part of the chain of islands in the West Philippine Sea (South China Sea).

CJ testimony not yet a necessity, says Cuevas

JUST three days into the defense panel's presentation, President Aquino's important allies sitting as judges in the Senate impeachment court yesterday demanded that Chief Justice Renato Corona himself testify and explain his assets and dollar deposits.

Sen. Antonio Trillanes IV sought a categorical commitment from the lead defense counsel, Renato Corona, that Corona himself would appear in the impeachment trial. Trillanes reminded Cuevas that Corona himself had promised in media interviews last week that he would explain his dollar accounts.

"I would like to take this opportunity to ask you if you have any plans to divulge the dollar accounts as requested by the Chief Justice himself," the senator said on Day 20 of the impeachment trial.

"I'm only holding you to your word... as well as the word of the Chief Justice in his media rounds that he will divulge and if you have the Chief Justice talking, then you have to follow his word," said Trillanes.

Ex-Governor Reyes: Real masterminds laughing

FORMER Palawan Gov. Joel Reyes yesterday assailed the decision of a panel of prosecutors to revive a murder case against him in connection with the killing last year of broadcaster-entrepreneur Gonzalo "Doc" Geryt Ortega.

"The true masterminds are laughing their heads off at this moment. Yes, I don't care because I'm convinced justice will be served eventually in due time," Reyes said in a brief statement.

Senate won't cite Gonzales for contempt

By Christian V. Eguerra

SENATE President Juan Ponce Enrile yesterday said the impeachment court would deny the request to cite House Majority Leader Neri Gonzales II in contempt for allegedly harassing a colleague who had testified for the defense panel.

"We have no authority to hold him in contempt," said Enrile, the presiding officer in the impeachment trial of Chief Justice Renato Corona.

"We are not a super court. We are an impeachment court performing a job. We are exercising a special jurisdiction," Enrile said.

Corona's lawyer earlier filed the motion after Gonzales threatened to expel Marcos Rep. Teodoro Yangco for defying the House leadership and insulting that ally of President Aquino, expelling congressman, allegedly influenced the impeachment

US researchers: Like humans, rats can make good decisions

Brain-imaging—Rats are smart, that's a well-known fact. But US researchers on Tuesday said a series of tests had shown they could be used as good models for studying human decision-making in order to make the best choice.

The discovery could help scientists better understand how the brain works in order to help people with autism who have difficulty processing various stimuli the way that others can, said the study's authors.

Scientists at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory ran tests that presented rats with a variety of sound and visual cues, and analyzed how the rodents sifted through that information and recognized patterns in order to get a treat.

Comparing the rats to humans who were given similar tests, they found that both groups made decisions that were in line with the

GLOBE BUSINESS:

Creating Stronger Bonds and Lasting Relationships with iPhone 4S

By Cherie Medina

If there is any better way to build stronger, more lasting business relationships, the iPhone would certainly count on the top of the list. Which is why Globe Business made sure that its long list of loyal industrial, commercial and retail business partners were the first in line to get their hands on the iPhone 4S during its official launch last December in the Philippines.

Among all of Apple's recently introduced products, the iPhone 4S is perhaps the most talked about. There is business value associated and expected more from a good smartphone than that the iPhone 4S allows its users to stay on top of the competition. And for this high level of expectation, Globe Business is confident it is able to deliver what it does best: top speed and reliability of service.

Globe has always been a proud Apple partner since the launch of the first iPhone back in 2007. The continued partnership extends to the local business community through Globe Business, which is packed with new features including Apple's dual-core A5 chip, iOS 5 mobile operating system, full HD 1080p resolution video recording, and Siri, the intelligent assistant that helps you get things done just by asking, among others.

LOYALTY COUNTS

Loyal Globe subscribers got their hands on the Philippines' very first official sales of the latest and most impressive incarnation of the iconic iPhone, which is packed with new features including Apple's dual-core A5 chip, iOS 5 mobile operating system, full HD 1080p resolution video recording, and Siri, the intelligent assistant that helps you get things done just by asking, among others.

In fact, up officials from the Embassy of the Netherlands and The Golf Mediterranean were among the first customers to receive their brand new iPhone 4S units, which were personally delivered to their headquarters.

"We are very pleased to receive the new iPhone 4S from Globe Business, our choice ICT partner at the Embassy of the Netherlands," said Ambassador Robert Brink.

Also, at the Golf Mediterranean, we happen to be a big fan of the iPhone 4S. The new iPhone 4S is a great addition to our mobile communications equipment, from cloud computing down to the all-in-one support. This is the primary reason why we opted to use the iPhone 4S units from Globe," stated Mark Mauer of The Golf Mediterranean (Golf Mediterranean).

The Embassy of the Netherlands and Golf Mediterranean are just a few of the many Globe Business customers who are able to receive the right size plan and subscription features that are able to meet their full functionality of the new iPhone 4S.

INDISPENSABLE

Business events and busy professionals consider the iPhone a part of their work, even as they move around the country or abroad. In fact, it is an indispensable tool for every business. With the iPhone 4S, users get a more sophisticated internet access that allows better communication with clients, better partners, friends and friends.

There is also a wider range of iPhone 4S apps that is an almost indispensable tool for everyday living. And with Globe Business, there is always a reliable network for calls, data and connectivity at hand.

Globe Business is the first and largest partner of Apple in the Philippines, which is a distinct edge for the telecommunications company in having in-depth knowledge and specialized experience when it comes to using Apple mobile devices from iPhones to the iPad 2.

This partnership between Apple and Globe has been tried and tested through the years, and continues greatly benefit from this partnership. This has allowed Globe to offer best value deals for the complete iPhone and iPad product suites.

LATEST TECHNOLOGY

Apple mobile devices are a perfect match for the high level of technology speed and reliability of the Globe Telecom network. In fact, the release of the iPhone 4S coincides with Globe's recently announced aggressive $700 million network modernization and 4G LTE network program that will make the company a nationwide 4G LTE network by 2015 and 4G-evaluated by the end of 2014.

with the 4G LTE technology of Globe. And being the first in the world 100% 4G network, Globe can offer faster and more reliable service to its customers. This is the best position to provide the best service to the most number of mobile communications.

Building the value of 4G LTE and 4G technology, Globe continues to invest and fast track its network transformation program, and to make it faster, more reliable and capable of using bandwidth like any other network (LTE, 4G, etc.), to deliver the customer.

And what does iPhone 4S have to offer? The new iPhone 4S is full of amazing new features that make it even easier to stay on top of the business. Through various commands, Siri, the built-in intelligent assistant, will be able to schedule or to schedule meetings, set reminders, and a message to a client, or even update documents on-line or get reports more meaning.

STAYING IN CHARGE

iPhone users are able to stay in charge of their day with productivity over 40% faster than the previous iPhone 4S. Features like Notification Center and Reminders, from private apps like Mail, Calendar, Contacts, and Safari, with more new than ever. And more iPhone 4S is a world phone, you can do business anywhere.

Notification Center allows the iPhone user to stay consistently updated on all his business activities from e-mails, texts, and calendar events to incoming news and more reports. It's a convenient way of getting things on their happening and affecting your business, all with just a single tap. Alerts appear discreetly at the top of your screen throughout the day with, and interrupting your work.

And as you use your iPhone right out of the box, without connecting to a Wi-Fi or PC. You can also download free iOS software updates over the air, directly to your iPhone. Whether you're on a business trip, at a customer's office, or just away from your desk, iPhone keeps you connected in a flash.

More

Make your daily work tasks easier with the extensive features that come with every iPhone. Send instant, or even text messages to other iOS 5 users with Messages. Wirelessly stream presentations, photos, videos, and even stream your apps on an external display using AirPlay. Make video calls to and from anywhere with iMessage. Find directions and promote your destination with Maps. And take high quality photos for your business with the built-in iMessage camera, even in low light conditions. iPhone and iOS 5 give you all the resources you need to make the most of your iPhone.

With all the marvelous features of iPhone 4S, Globe stands proud as a telecommunications company that is able to deliver the right size plan and subscription features that are able to meet their full functionality of the new iPhone 4S.

Del Rosario meets Russian counterpart in Moscow visit

By Tina G. Santos

IN A HISTORIC bilateral meeting held in Moscow on Tuesday, Foreign Affairs Secretary Albert Del Rosario and Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov agreed to build stronger relations between the two countries, particularly in matters of political and economic cooperation.

According to the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA), the two leaders will "strengthen the ties between the two countries in the next five years."

The Moscow visit, the DFA said, was a first by a Philippine foreign secretary to meet, greet and strengthen the political and economic ties between the two countries.

Del Rosario and Lavrov also discussed the challenges posed by maritime security in the Asia-Pacific region. They agreed that the threat to this area should be approached using a multi-lateral approach based on transparency and diplomacy. The DFA said they affirmed their commitment to ensure safety of navigation and other security issues in the region.

The Philippine secretary also met with the Russian ambassador to the Philippines, Alexander Lukashenko, and discussed the bilateral relations between the two countries.

The DFA said the visit was a success and that the two countries will continue to work together to strengthen their relations.

Mendoza, Herrera slug it out for TUCP control

By Jeanine Biting

THE TUCP and factions of the Trade Union Congress of the Philippines (TUCP), said to be the country's largest labor confederation with 1.2 million members, continue to slug it out.

The slugging of civil servants, Herrera and Mendoza, is the latest in a series of slugging wars between the two unions. Herrera, a former senator and longtime secretary general of TUCP, claimed the presidency after the 48-year-old Mendoza resigned on Nov. 1. He is reported to be following his former boss as a new candidate.

Herrera, who was reported to have been "provoked" by Mendoza's decision to resign, said he was "provoked" by Herrera's decision. A statement from TUCP secretary general, Herrera, said that Herrera's decision was "provoked" by Herrera's decision. Herrera said that he was "provoked" by Herrera's decision.

Prosecution: Defense witness seen arriving, leaving in SC car

By Cynthia D. Barata

PROSECUTION apologizes for a preliminary hearing in which a defense witness was seen arriving and leaving in a car that was not the car of the defense.

In a press conference, Manila, last Friday, Supreme Court Justice Dela Cruz said that the defense witness, a private investigator and owner of a car, was not the car of the defense. He said that the witness was seen arriving and leaving in a car that was not the car of the defense. He said that the witness was seen arriving and leaving in a car that was not the car of the defense.

During the trial on Tuesday, the witness was seen arriving and leaving in a car that was not the car of the defense. He said that the witness was seen arriving and leaving in a car that was not the car of the defense.

NO. 1027 of President Aquino yesterday said he found Vicente's "credibility" after consulting from someone the witness asked was living on the grounds that he is not in the nation of the Philippines.

"The witness, the co-accused, he seemed to know what he was doing. He was quite sure of his facts. He was not afraid, which indicates a person of truth. And I consulted with various people if he lived there, and they said 'Yes. They have rented him there in Shalimar City,'" said Sen. Regino Orosa.

The witness, a government official, is a judge that Vicente's credibility was strengthened by the fact that "he likes Duterte and I like him."

"The witness of fact, (Vicente) has one of the largest collections of houses. There why he has a big lot—3,400 square meters," Orosa said.

Best denial arises

"I was wondering (at the trial of his last month) when on earth anybody would need with 3,400 square meters. (I found) it's full of houses. And (Vicente) is one of the last houses in the community," the witness said.

Orosa also said he was writing to Orosa Vicente's lawyer to request the property in his name despite the signature of five periods of trial from Orosa and his sister more than 20 years ago. "I have relatives whose properties are still under the names of their grandmothers. That's a matter of business. And so, it happens in this country," he wrote last.

Corona got P5M for services in Senate, House electoral tribunals

By T. G. Geronimo

CHIEF JUSTICE Renato Corona received close to P5 million from the Senate and House electoral tribunals, two defense attorneys said yesterday.

Isidro Delacruz, secretary of the Senate Electoral Tribunal (SET), told the Inquirer yesterday that Corona received P4.5 million in monthly expense allowances, reimbursements for an extraordinary and extraordinary expenses, and a number of the body from February 2009 to April 2010.

Isidro Delacruz, secretary of the Senate Electoral Tribunal (SET), told the Inquirer yesterday that Corona received P4.5 million in monthly expense allowances, reimbursements for an extraordinary and extraordinary expenses, and a number of the body from February 2009 to April 2010.

Allowance in SALN?

Heating this, former President Joseph P. Estrada, the president of the court, said that such pay was an allowance, and this was not disallowed, and was justified by a confidential source in the electoral process.

"The did not consider it income and did not submit tax returns," Corona said.

The extraordinary and miscellaneous expenses and allowable expenses are of the same nature as the regular salary, and their disbursement was accompanied by a certification in the payroll.

"These are reimbursements for expenses that the chair or the member should have expended for his office in relation to his duties as a member of the tribunal," Corona said.

Not for personal use

Asked if Corona could not use these allowances for his personal use, she said that such allowances should be for the use of the tribunal.

Corona said that the monthly expense allowance is for the use of the tribunal, and not for personal use.

Under court constitution, by personal expenses, Corona said, members of the court should not receive allowances.

Not income, taxable

Under court constitution, by personal expenses, Corona said, members of the court should not receive allowances.

Philex eyes investments in Burma mines

THE PHILEX MINING Corp. targets gold mines said on Wednesday it is keen to invest in Burma (also known as Myanmar) as the former military ruled state makes tentative policy reforms and aims to lure investors with tax breaks.

Philex Mining Corp. has sent representatives to Burma to conduct work to look at opportunities and to assess the investment climate, company senior vice president Michael Todoroff said. Agency Street Press.

"Burma is opening up and a lot of best-in-class miners are looking at this country. We do not want to be left behind," he said.

He said Philex was eyeing deposits in the north and south and even on gas in Burma, but did not disclose which local companies they were dealing with.

"We are looking at the regulatory framework, the political environment. Some investors are those who are the people to talk to. This is the regular due diligence that companies do," Todoroff said.

The company, which posted a record net income of P5.6 billion in 2011, is also eyeing investments in gold and copper in Indonesia, Indonesia.

He stressed the talks were exploratory and that no commitments had been made.

Burma has embarked on a series of political reforms, including the release of democracy icons, long-time Buddhist and other political prisoners.

It has also included a quasi-civilian government, and allowed for free press in parliamentary elections in April.

It is hoped said to encourage further opening up, the United States and Europe have begun easing economic sanctions imposed on Burma for rights abuses.

The Philippines has called for the sanctions to be lifted entirely.

Burma is rich in oil, gas, timber, minerals and gems, and investors are looking to explore the country as it prepares to enter the middle, affluent class.

In January, Burma said it planned to offer single-year tax exemptions to foreign investors to encourage them to invest in the country.

Leviticus 19: 7-20: 21

Then says Jehovah: "One thing I will not do: I will not be angry with you and I will not be angry with you. But if you will not do as I command you and if you will not do as I command you, then I will be angry with you, and I will be angry with you, and I will be angry with you."

From the time I brought them out of Egypt, until now, I have not been angry with them. I have not been angry with them, and I have not been angry with them. I have not been angry with them, and I have not been angry with them. I have not been angry with them, and I have not been angry with them.

"SIN TAX"

A Crippling Blow to the Beer Industry: What's at Stake

The proposed House Bill 5727 seeks to unify and increase the excise tax rate for beer.

On the first year of implementation, all beer products will be levied an excise tax of P25.00 per liter.

For economy brands that would be tantamount to a 140% increase in excise tax.

In other words, it's consumers who can only afford the lower-priced beers that shall bear the burden of additional taxes.

Given that low-priced and economy brands make up 74% of all beer sold in the Philippines, we're looking at a steep drop in beer industry volumes.

Conservative figures have beer volumes declining by as much as 50%—a staggering decline.

The change in the status quo will only result in lost jobs and income for those who need it most.

As many as 8,000 workers directly associated with the production and selling of beer, and tens of thousands more involved in the distribution of beer products stand to lose their jobs.

Lower beer sales will threaten the livelihood of more than 500,000 sari-sari stores nationwide.

HB 5727 will place beer products out of reach of our consumers who are mostly in the lower-income bracket.

It doesn't have to be this way.

We support a tax law which is multi-tiered and provides for moderate increases, protects the rights of low-income consumers and promotes the healthy growth of an industry which has always been a committed partner to economic development.

ASIA BREWERY
INCORPORATED

SAN MIGUEL
BREWERY INC.

TO THE HONORABLE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

With the members of the Distilled Spirits Association of the Philippines, together with all of our direct employees totaling over a hundred thousand, submit to your honorable functions to improve taxes on our industry.

But this we do with great apprehension because the current proposal under House Bill No. 5727, which is authored by Carlos Bop, Joseph Alaya and cosponsored by some members of the ruling party as being endorsed by the President, will cause the death of our industry, our only source of livelihood, as well as of more than 5,000,000 of our countrymen who produce our raw materials and render allied services for our industry. The viability of a close to a million set-up stores nationwide, that derive 20 percent of their income from our distilled spirits products, would also be affected.

While we understand that our economy needs additional revenues from taxes, these revenues should not be raised through a measure that goes against the interests of the state and its establishments, a measure that promotes social and economic inequalities rather than reduces it, a measure that is regressive rather than progressive contrary to the constitutional mandate for Congress to evolve a progressive system of taxation.

HB No. 5727 intends to produce an increase of more than 1,000% in excise in tax on the third year with an excise tax of P150 per proof liter or more than 10 times the current P14.68/proof liter, while it revises high priced brands falling under Section 141(b) of the National Internal Revenue Code, with a 1,500% percent decrease in tax on the first year from P634.90/proof liter to P42/proof liter for those under the premium classification. By the third year, economy brands with an average net retail price of P95/750 ml bottle and high-priced brands with average net retail price of P432/ 750 ml bottle for standard; P993/750 ml bottle for deluxe and P2,392/750 ml bottle for premium classification will all pay the same rate of P150/proof liter.

Our industry generates sales of around P42 billion yearly and contributes about P6.5 billion in excise taxes per year. With the proposed bill, the Department of Finance claims that it would be able to raise excise taxes of P21.1 billion over a period of five years. This is roughly the same amount of gross sales that the industry would generate for the same period. One has to ask the question: how could the industry pay excise taxes equivalent to its total gross revenue?

DOF projects to collect from distilled spirits industry, a cumulative total of P113.13 billion in excise tax revenues for the next five years, even more than cigarettes and fermented liquors and projected at an exponential increase every year which is not realistic.

DOF Reform Proposal Estimated Incremental Revenues (in P Billion)
Year	Cigarettes	Distilled Spirits	Fermented Liquor	Total
Year1	30.1	11.2	19.4	60.7
Year2	36.1	26.5	21.7	84.3
Year3	41.3	53.0	24.2	118.4
Year4	48.4	58.4	26.7	129.5
Year5	45.3	64.2	29.6	139.5
Total	196.4	213.3	121.5	531.2

With the industry's annual gross revenue of P42 B, it is impossible to collect P113.13 billion in excise tax revenues for the next five years. That would be equal to the industry's cumulative 5-year sales revenue at current prices.

The distilled spirits industry is highly sensitive to inflation and dependence on the very low purchasing power of Filipino consumers. Industry data below show that more than 90 percent of the total industry volume is being consumed by consumers belonging to the D and E socio-economic classes. In light of this data, we ask: How could the typical Filipino consumer afford a rate of P150 per proof liter that would raise the price of a local distilled spirit almost three times from current prices from P64 pesos to P150 per 750 ml bottle, when his total expendable income for the product is only about P60 per month? The proposed bill is regressive and anti-poor. The proposed bill seeks to raise the incremental revenues by taxing not the consumers who could afford the additional tax, but by taxing those who could not.

Liquor Industry Data
Eco class D & E consume 91.2% of industry volume

Share to Economic Class	2007	2008	2009
All	1.3	0.2	1.4
A	0.0	0.0	1.0
B	0.1	0.0	0.0
C	0.1	0.0	0.0
D	41.4	40.8	41.0
E	50.0	50.3	50.2
Total	100.0	100.0	100.0

If the bill seeks to generate revenue, we have questions on why it is designed this way. Does the bill intend to induce consumption, despite the aimed supplementary tax increase of 1000% on distilled spirits intended for the mass market, so it can raise tax revenues? Or does it want to influence the increased consumption of high-priced luxury brands and switch the market preference so that as such products would enjoy a huge permanent tax cut so government can eventually realize the income in its revenues from our industry? But why induce the tax on high-priced distilled spirits and why increase the tax on the economy distilled spirits to the point that the industry volume would shrink by one third?

The fermented and distilled beverage tradition was well-established in our islands as part of culture well before the European contact, before Spaniards set foot upon our soil. The earliest Spanish writers already spoke of established native beverages, whether simply fermented or distilled, such as tuba (from sap of coconut or sapa palm), bachang (distilled from coconut palm), aguy (rice wine) and har (sugar cane wine). Our more than five century industry now faces an uncertain future. We are besieged by laws that with a single stroke of legislation, we will cease to exist as part of an age-old business culture rooted out of existence.

Indeed, the power to tax is the prerogative of the legislature. We, however, admonish you to keep in mind that legitimate consumption enjoy the constitutional protection not to be taxed out of existence. Increasing taxes because of a tax imposition may be an acceptable consequence but killing the business of an entire industry is another matter and should not be allowed. It is counter-productive and ultimately subversive of the nation's thrust towards a better economy which will ultimately benefit the majority of our people.

It is upon your hands now, honorable members of the House of Representatives, the duly elected delegates of the voice of our people. We beseech your collective wisdom on the matter at hand so we may become a responsible and cooperative society, working together towards a better and prosperous nation for our people.

We are sure nobody wants to have blood on their hands...

Very respectfully, we submit to your prudence.

OPPOSE DOF-BACKED HOUSE BILL 5727!

HOUSE BILL 5727 is ANTI-LOCAL INDUSTRY

Full-page ads have appeared in major newspapers attacking the current four-tiered excise tax system under Republic Act 9334.

These ads call for the passage of HB 5727 prescribing a single rate on all brands to "level the playing field."

Will adopting one rate for all cigarette brands level the playing field?

Consider this.

This will happen if HB 5727 is adopted:

- Tax rate on imported premium brands will increase by only 6%
- Tax rate on low-priced local brands will increase by more than 1,000%

A 1000% increase is excessive and unprecedented; no other country in the world has increased taxes that much.

This will be the likely impact of HB 5727:

- Legal cigarettes will become unaffordable for many Filipinos.
- Cigarette consumption will however not be greatly reduced because consumers will switch to cheaper, non-regulated black-market cigarettes thus undermining the public health objective of the tax reform.
- The Government's revenue objective will be undermined by smuggled and fake cigarettes which do not pay taxes.
- Tobacco growers and small local manufacturers which produce only low- and mid-priced brands will be threatened in their existence.
- The livelihood of the 2.9 million Filipinos who depend on the tobacco industry will be impacted.

2 'child rapists' killed in MPD cell

By Joyce T. Garcia

A DWY officer Manila Mayor Alfredo Lim extracted their confession, two men charged with the rape and murder of a 7-year-old girl were killed in what police described as a "scuffle" Tuesday night at their place of detention.

The Manila Police Director said Federico Lim, 26, tried to push the gun of his police officer but was immediately shot by his fellow officers, Cecilia Bando Jr., 35, another officer responded to the commotion that the following.

Police officer said the two men, members of the Bayan-Lupang Spanish gang, had admitted to kidnapping, seducing and strangling a 7-year-old girl from the Marikina district.

The girl was found dead Friday last week, naked from the waist down, with a nylon cord around her neck, at a house on the Alibon Street in Sta. Mesa. She was last seen after with the two suspects, who allegedly carried her to the house of a friend, where she was a last seen.

When arrested on Friday, Bando admitted to having sex with the girl, saying he had asked Bando to bring her to him after making money to her.

The scuffle took place after Bando was arrested by eight-duty investigators (PCE) from the Manila Police Department (MPD) in the vicinity of the house where the girl was found.

According to the police, the two men were arrested on Monday last, a former Manila police chief who had named the man "Gang (Gang)" for his controversial actions, methods, the mayor asked them prime links "Mabababang ng lahat ng mga pinaghihiwalay. (Can you still distinguish what you're doing?)"

It was the second time this year that a police officer was killed while under the MPD's custody after allegedly murdering a police officer's partner.

On the night of Feb. 4, Officer (retired) Gang (Gang), a suspect in the murder of his girlfriend Rose Chen Lim, allegedly shot himself after taking his partner's pistol while ordered a suspect, released on their way to the prosecutor's office.

WILDCARDS recover the body of a victim of a boat explosion on the banks of the Phagla River in New-Angkor district, about 32 kilometers north of Dacca, Bangladesh, on Tuesday.

Bangladesh ferry death toll rises

DHAKA—Bangladesh–ferry workers in Bangladesh on Wednesday found eight more bodies after a ferry sank in a huge fire and steamed some more may be trapped inside as the death toll hit 48.

The packed Bangladesh 1-ton capacity in the early hours of Tuesday morning after being hit by an oil barge which was carrying the Myanmar Boro 80 tons and was southeast of the capital Dhaka.

The incident–ferry, which had about 320 passengers on board, plunged to the bottom after being hit at about 2.30 a.m.

The death toll rose to 48, “at least deputy police chief Naig” them told AFP adding that more people were still waiting based on reports from divers’ relatives who performed on the ferry boat to reach the rescue work.

Emergency teams have a second rescue team that arrived during the night could be the ferry is to be brought to the surface.

“We started to lift the small and drag it to the shore,” Navy Commander Gafur Hossain, who is leading the operation, told AFP.

“But in addition to the tide and the river is very deep. We lost a lot of dead bodies as we can’t do it,” he said. “It is likely as it was also hit by a cargo of chemicals of sorts of oil.”

The exact number of people on the ferry was uncertain as several boats are still on the water, mostly priority in Bangladesh and some countries, but they others when it is found.

“We came on the river started to sink with a load of oil, we were up from electricity,” said security Raza Begum, who was on the accident site on Tuesday.

“Everyone was screaming. I jumped through a window but my handbag could not be seen because of a small oil fire,” she said.

“I was in the middle of a wedding party. Hundreds of people, including the bridegroom family and friends of relatives, were on the river’s edge but a second day.”

Established Alam, secretary of the Island Ferry Transport Association, said the vessel, which was built in 1991, appeared to have sunk rapidly after the collision.

An investigation has been conducted, he added. —AFP

Syria's Assad formally replies to UN proposals

DAHMAN—Syrian President Bashar al-Assad responded to UN draft League proposals to end the bloodshed in his country in position said nearly 50,000 people were killed and a progressive daily reported the capture of a rebel city.

The same cases in rights group Amnesty International on Wednesday, alleged detention in Syria’s so-called crackdown on dissent faced a “highly racist world of systematic repression” that has hit the country’s backbones.

UN head Ban Ki-moon said Assad, who met with Assad in Damascus over the weekend, said he had said “concrete proposals” to the Syrian leader to steps to halt the attacks and restore human rights to those who were arrested in an attempt to end the violence.

“These proposals are being rejected,” Assad said. “We will not accept a situation where the UN is not able to do its job.”

Santorum wins crucial primaries in the South

WASHINGTON—Rick Santorum won crucial primaries in Alabama and Mississippi in the race for the Republican presidential nomination, dealing a devastating blow to Newt Gingrich and securing his position as the chief conservative alternative to front-runner Mitt Romney.

winning a stable coalition.

"We did it again," Santorum cheered before cheering supporters in Lafayette, Louisiana, which he took for his primary March 18. He said it was time for conservatism to lead in an effort to defeat President Barack Obama in November's election.

But they were especially hot news for Gingrich, who desperately needed a win to show he remained. Santorum had 20 percent of the vote, while Gingrich and Romney each had 20 percent. Mitt Romney, who finished second in Mississippi, previously showed Santorum to be 20 percent, Gingrich 11 percent and Romney 30 percent.

The South's candidates, Texas Rep. Ron Paul, did not compete actively in the two contests and lagged far behind in single digits.

Romney still holds a commanding lead in delegates to the convention in Tampa, Fla., on August 1. The former Massachusetts governor is much better funded and has a significant campaign organization. While he seems to have the backing of the party establishment, that the conservative base distrusts him and his two finalists seems to temper would mean that Santorum and Gingrich.

Lower still, he will be behind Romney from here on in the Deep South, where he has yet to win a primary. He won in Georgia, where Santorum and Gingrich failed to qualify for the ballot, and he won in other states with many transferred votes from another state but lost those options to Ron Paul.

Romney's congressional district is a swing state, but he lost that to Gingrich.

Swiss bus crash kills 28 Belgian tourists

BERNE, Switzerland—A bus carrying Belgian children home from a school in Italy crashed into the wall of a tunnel in Switzerland, killing 28 people, 22 of them children, police said on Wednesday.

The bus, carrying 52 people, nearly a school children aged about 12 to 16, crashed into the wall of a tunnel in Switzerland, killing 28 people, 22 of them children, police said on Wednesday.

"It is an event which will result in a major change in the way that the Belgian government handles its children when they enter the country," said a Belgian government spokesman. "Belgian government spokesman said that the bus was carrying 52 people, 22 of them children, police said on Wednesday.

The crash was one of the worst since 1982 when 24 German tourists were killed on a railway crossing when a train hit a car.

Twenty-four more children aboard the Belgium-bound bus were injured, some seriously, and were being treated in Swiss hospitals, police said. The bus was traveling in the wrong direction.

Azkals dreaming big after making history

Team within two wins of Asian Cup ...

By Cedric P. Tupas

KATHMANDU—Two wins.

That's what separates the Philippines from lagging the 2011 AFC Challenge Cup, where champions go on automatic berth in the prestigious AFC Asian Cup in 2015 in Australia.

The 200 will be extra and that alone enough for the Azkals who came here on the lowest seeded squad and brought down a couple of former champions to make the semi-finals for the first time.

Leading in the way of the Azkals in the semifinals on Friday is 2010 Asian Cup champions, which defeated the Philippines, 5-0, in 2008 and Mideast giant Nepal and Maldives to get into the quarter-finals.

The Azkals, who are in the 16th position, will play against the 17th ranked Nepal in the quarter-finals. "I know the people and the mentality (of the team). They are proud. They are confident and not in the same time as we are," said Pites, whose squad was named in a surprise draw by India-based Filipino diplomats as a testament in the city's status as the hub of the world.

The Azkals will play on Friday at the stadium against the 17th ranked Nepal in the quarter-finals. The Azkals, who are in the 16th position, will play against the 17th ranked Nepal in the quarter-finals.

Defending champion India, Korea and Pakistan—two teams that were killed to go further in the tournament—will dispute the other semifinal besides the Azkals and Nepal in the quarter-finals.

Regardless of the result, the Azkals are sure to play on Friday.

While the Challenge Cup is for less developed and smaller nations, the Asian Cup is for the bigger nations in the continent. The Azkals, who are in the 16th position, will play against the 17th ranked Nepal in the quarter-finals.

There are some minor hiccups on the Azkals' side, who were given a free day yesterday because of the 16th ranked Nepal in the quarter-finals. The Azkals, who are in the 16th position, will play against the 17th ranked Nepal in the quarter-finals.

Pites has ruled out several top players in the side, particularly 10-goal forward Dennis Cordero, who recently signed with FC Thun in the Swiss Super League.

... But Tajiks' coach says PH has 'no chance'

By Cedric P. Tupas

KATHMANDU—There's one person who isn't a fan of the Philippines' Azkals' playing style in the AFC Challenge Cup.

After watching his team go the way from the Philippines' Azkals, Tajikistan's coach, Gennadiy Shatalov, quickly dismissed the Azkals as a weak contender in the tournament.

"This class," Shatalov said, "a couple of 10-goal scorers and a few players in the forward line are all that the Azkals have to offer. They are not a team."

"Tajikistan is very good. The Philippines do not play football."

Shatalov, who speaks little English, was seen in the crowd of cheering fans at the stadium where the Azkals are currently based.

Imports shine as SMBeer gets back at Saigon Heat

By Jonathan W. Papp

THE ABSENCE of two veterans hardly hurt San Miguel Beer as Dashi Johnson and Jerald Fernandez powered the Beermen to a 79-60 thrashing of the Saigon Heat in the Asian Basketball League pre-season of the 2011-2012 season.

Johnson provided a 24-point performance while Fernandez also helped lead the Beermen for their fourth win in 12 games since their last season (Shanghaio and Jordan Gibson, who both scored a two-point performance, after flying in to a backcourt board with the Atlanta Philippine Exporters last week.

"I think it showed the strength of our team," said San Miguel coach Boris Berio.

Johnson posted a double-double of 19 points and 23 rebounds, while Fernandez highlighted his 17-point work with three key passes down the stretch.

U-14: Olivarez scrapes past Korean foe

By Marc Anthony Reyes

THIRTEEN-OLD Eric Olivarez survived two matches paces to emerge through a semifinal quarter-final match on March 14, 7-6 (7/5), 11-11, and a quarter and progress to the semifinals of the boys' singles in the ITF World 14-and-under tennis tournament at the P. D. Ramos Tennis Center.

The incoming high school sophomore at Olivarez College became the first in the opening set and ultimately secured his win by taking a game to a double break in the final game and then a tiebreak.

"I was not hitting well at first but I was just back and saw that I can win this," said Olivarez, a member of Philippine Tennis Association president Rep. Eusebio Olivarez.

He led the match at 7-6 but was forced to play on the edge of defeat when the Korean pushed him to a tiebreak, 11-11, and again at 12-12.

Olivarez, who reached the second round last week, beat his opponent in three to 11-12 only to see him break on, before finally winning the match on the Korean's second serve.

He will face top seed and last week's champion Oh, Gwang-goo of Korea, who beat also leading the semi was Jerald Fernandez of Philippines, who beat second seed and last week's finalist John P. Papp of Korea, 7-6 (7/5), 11-11.

In his 1/16th, last week's champion and top seed Gao Shuang of China defeated Du Daxin of Korea, 6-2, 6-4 to go to a match against third seed Indian Prakash Parthasarathy.

Last week's finalist Li Na of China also made it to the final with a 7-6 (7/5), 11-12 to top seed and last week's champion Oh, Gwang-goo of Korea, who beat

Dwight dominates as Magic trip Heat

Kobe, Bynum too much for Memphis

ORLANDO, Florida—Dwight Howard, the largest subject of transfer talk at the NBA trade deadline news, scored 24 points and grabbed 20 rebounds to lead the Orlando Magic past the Miami Heat, 104-99, in overtime on Tuesday.

Joel Anthony scored 25 points, including four late in overtime, while J.J. Redick scored 17 points and Ryan Anderson had 14 points and 12 rebounds as Orlando won for the second time in three games against Miami this season.

"We're a great team when we play together and play hard," Howard said. "We did that tonight and we have to do that every night. We have to win by playing like this. We just have to keep this going."

Dwight Wade scored 20 points, including three late in overtime, while Chris Paul added 23 points for the Heat and LeBron James added 19 points, 11 rebounds and eight assists.

"The Heat will have a chance to surge the last few minutes on Sunday against the Magic but by then, Howard—who played his eighth 20-point game—will be playing his 20th career—might be playing his 20th."

Howard has made no secret that he wants to play in a contender and would like to see Orlando make some moves to strengthen the lineup to compete with power teams like Miami and Chicago.

like to see Orlando make some moves to strengthen the lineup to compete with power teams like Miami and Chicago.

For the Miami team, he has been asked in various reports to a handful of clubs and rumors with the Magic, who would like to have the most money in a new era and more available talent around him as well.

With Howard's 20th career double-double, Howard's performance could have been his last with the Magic, but he said his only plan for the next two days was "to play basketball and have fun" instead of ponder trade destinations.

"I'm not everything that is going on in the press here," Howard said. "My job is to play as hard as I can to make sure we win on the court."

"I can't control what's going on with Dwight's situation. We were brought to my (but I can't control it). I am going to play the best that I can."

Miami led 60-45 at half time, thanks in part to 11 points by Bynum in the first quarter and a 20-15 third-quarter run. But the Magic battled back and pulled back at 94-94 at three minutes.

"The defense was great in the second half," Howard said. "We got back and we didn't let them get back on track."

In Memphis, Kobe Bryant's partnership with Andrew Bynum continued to frustrate the Los Angeles club as the ORLANDO center Dwight Howard from the ball as a dunk attempt. There is looking on the Magic to see whether or not they will lose their superstar forward as well.

Lakers in a thrilling 106-111 double-overtime victory over the Grizzlies.

Bynum powered his way to a season-high 37 points and 16 rebounds while Bryant added 34, nine rebounds and the assist to give the Lakers (26-13) a one-sided win against a top Western Conference team.

A second-half single-quarter victory for the Lakers, who are third in the conference, 11 games ahead of fourth-place Memphis.

"We definitely wanted to get this win, that's why we got it," Bryant said as he finished off scoring 15 of his 33 shots from the field.

In overtime, Bynum scored 22 points, 11 assists and 11 points and seven assists and the Lakers ended in first in the Atlantic Division in overtime, 116-107.

In Oklahoma City, Conway Law and 10000 Chandler (who scored 21 points) and Patrick Patterson (who scored 16 points) put the Thunder (26-13) in the lead in the Western Conference (26-13) in overtime, 116-107.

In other games, the Toronto Raptors scored their 10th straight win, 106-98, as the Raptors (26-13) in overtime, 116-107.

Bucks get Ellis, ship Bogut out

MILWAUKEE—The Milwaukee Bucks traded Andrew Bogut and Stephen Jackson to the Golden State Warriors Tuesday night for center player Brandon Roy and forward player Monta Ellis.

The Bucks also got forward Elton Brand and center Spencer Hawes.

The Bucks represent a pretty big change in the Bucks and Roy, the No. 1 overall pick in the 2003 draft who has struggled with injuries, is the only player to lead all scorers at Jackson, who had 18 points out of 30 shots with 10 rebounds, 10 assists and 10 steals in his last game.

"We're excited to acquire a player the caliber of Andrew Bogut, who we think is actually one of the top centers in the NBA," general manager Larry Riley said.

'Linsanity' fizzles out; NY in trouble

NEW YORK—It seems like this was a case of "Linsanity" in New York City. The New York Knicks' star point guard, Jeremy Lin, is in trouble.

They are back to playing the way they were in January, before Jeremy Lin emerged as the star of the team. New York has lost six in a row for the second time this season and is in danger of missing the playoffs.

Lin, who has been the star of the Knicks since he joined the team, is in trouble. The Knicks have lost six in a row for the second time this season and is in danger of missing the playoffs.

"Right now there are tough, as I'm not going to get through it by myself. The only way to get through it is by teamwork. We need everybody."

Problems is, they have everybody on the team. The Knicks are in trouble. The Knicks have lost six in a row for the second time this season and is in danger of missing the playoffs.

Stock market surges to another record close

Investors cheered by fresh gains on Wall Street

By Boris C. Sumbak

THE LOCAL stock market index yesterday surged to a new high as investors took their cue from the rally on Wall Street which, in turn, was driven by a favorable report on US banks.

The Philippine stock exchange index jumped by 43.24 points, or 0.9 percent, to a record close of 5,000.00, its highest since 1997.

"Investors, both local and foreign, have been very good to take on their investments. It is evident that the index will reach a new high of 5,000 before the year is over," said Raulito Garcia, president of local stock brokerage PTE & Co. and adviser PTE Fund.

The day's rally was led by the property and industrial sectors, which gained by 2.41 percent and 1.2 percent, respectively. All sub-indices were up except for the mining and metals, which was lowered by the drop in investors' appetite for its blue chips.

PLD, MTR, ALC, BOK, BP, Meralco, Q1 LGU, JCI, Iloilo, ECC, DMC and ECR continued to be the PSE's stars.

PSE, formerly PSE and SMC, also gained on heavy trade, ending the PSE's streak of six consecutive days of gains.

On the other hand, 78 stocks declined, including Megaworld and SM Investments.

Other sectors advanced by 0.7 to 1.1 percent.

INDICATORS

"Philippine shares moved to another fresh record peak as a result of Wall Street's gains overnight," said Raulito Garcia, president of local stock brokerage PTE & Co. and adviser PTE Fund.

Overall, the PSE index closed at 5,000.00, up 43.24 points, or 0.9 percent, from 4,956.76 on March 13.

For the first time, the technology-heavy Nikkei closed above 20,000, while the Dow Jones rose 13,000 after the Federal Reserve announced that 13 of the 37 member banks in the United States could withstand shocks from a new recession.

More electricity eyed for Mindanao co-ops

By Arny B. Barua

ELECTRIC COOPERATIVES in Mindanao may soon get an additional supply to meet up to eight hours of rotating brownouts on the island, the Department of Energy is expected.

A DOE order to be issued next week will allow for up to eight hours of rotating brownouts.

In a briefing yesterday, Energy Undersecretary Jocelyn Patricia M. Ardu and Energy Secretary Jesse M. Ardu, Jr. said the DOE is working to ensure that the supply of electricity is sufficient to meet the needs of the island.

BSP monetary policy expected to pay off big

By Raulito M. Domingo

THE ECONOMIC commission has held up its end of the bargain on monetary policy, according to its latest report.

In 2011, the government incurred a budget deficit of P107.4 billion, which was less than two-thirds of the previous year's level. Taking into account the size of the economy, overspending in 2011 amounted only 2 percent, less than the 3.3 percent recorded in 2010.

Also, the debt stock as of end-2011 settled at P4,291 billion, or just 38.5 percent of gross domestic product—the lowest in the last 10 years.

Last March 1, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) used to strengthen monetary and banking laws by 23 basis points to 4 percent and 6 percent, respectively.

"The government will continue to provide more extensive public services than it does at present. So, the key to fiscal sustainability will continue to rest on its own, rather than on spending restraint," said Raulito Garcia, president of local stock brokerage PTE & Co. and adviser PTE Fund.

of their combination of ingredients. The curries are light and easy on the tummy, made only from fresh ingredients, while the rich ones contain largely vegetarian milk. The use of herbs and spices, plus the simplicity of the cooking process, add to the refreshing taste.

These food houses are in fact a partnership of 10 businesses in Ontario, Canada, that uses the name of Flowers of Thailand in "Flowers of Thailand," an ongoing food festival until March 21 at Queen's University. The foodfest is being held in partnership with Thai business national Airways, the Tourism Authority of Thailand and the Ministry of Tourism, Thailand.

Fine Thai silk, led by some handicraftsmen that would maintain Siamese Oriental Rattanak, have been flown to ship up traditional and modern fabrics from the land of Siam. The other three silk are imported from Thailand, Indonesia, Vietnam and Laos as well.

Don't miss the "Sweet Treats" event, which will feature a variety of sweet treats from local vendors. The event will be held on the same day as the main festival, and the proceeds will go to the same charity.

MAKING LOTS OF MONEY: Woodchucks and gophers that dig out the roots of plants and trees.

Our feathered winged beast ruled with rakish elegance. "That Was Coosung" (deep third grown) goes fine with every plum variety. "Fanning Snows" (thick and creamy mid leaf) works with pinks and light reds. "Get That Medallioning" (soft third thick) goes with medium reds and "Red Young Heart Midlawn" (rounded dark with unusual waxy and phloem) is among many others.

Finish your hearty meal with the classic "Show New Medallion" (creamy white with soft inner), "Get Cheong" (thick) blue streak with an

Adapting Pad Thai for Philippine palate

I REALLY ADMIRE the Thai for their dedication to promoting tourism to their country. Lately, the Tourism Authority of Thailand (TAT) has been whipping up an activity almost every month to promote various aspects of Thai trade and tourism.

Last February, at a trade show held in Bangkok, Thailand, 23 private organizations from various sectors presented Thai products and four packages designed to attract the attention of the beauty and fashion of Thailand. Among those present were the Thai Automobiles himself, Panna Pannasirakulchai, an account manager for Thai Airways, Sorn Chomphichai, as well as Love & Drama, Philippines, marketing manager for Initially, the Student Trade Exhibition held early this month at the South Convention Center was a showcase of Thai products and services. This time, however, the products, ranging from silk to jewelry to pharmaceuticals, were for sale, and at very reasonable prices, too. I came home with shopping bags full of assorted goods, including some dips and curries.

What makes this easy is the use of bottled pad Thai paste for stir-frying the noodles.

I need to make the sauce from scratch, i.e., from fresh tomatoes, which I would buy and press to make my own tomato sauce. Because the whole exhibition, I learned that bottled and that pane is just as good as making this meat sauce.

Deliciously citrus-y—kiwi pork with coconut cream sauce, roasted chicken breast with kiwi salsa

By Irene C. Pomer

If YOU ARE not enough citrusy already, try cooking with kiwi. The juicy fruit adds to meat with flavors, vitamins and antioxidants and is an interesting thing to try.

Roast the kiwi pork with coconut cream sauce, roasted chicken breast with kiwi salsa, and kiwi salsa. These are just some of the many ways kiwi can be used in your cooking.

Kiwi is a fruit from New Zealand. Kiwi is a small, round, green fruit with a fuzzy skin. It is a member of the Actinidia genus. Kiwi is a fruit that is used in many different ways. It can be eaten raw, cooked, or used in a variety of recipes.

Flip-flop riders — which feature 18.5-inch wheels engaged in a downward tilt to modern bicycles — have gone viral. “We watch FlipFlop videos on YouTube all the time,” one exclaimed.

In creating Bay Pinks, he tried to imitate the "flip-top-sunglasses-and-look" — with a little of 50 Cent thrown in for good measure.

Now, Roy Phillips has gone viral as well — with his own loyal following on YouTube, Twitter, and Facebook. Even so, Milton Eisenhower-Savage and other politicians have been quoting him for years in their speeches.

"I never thought it would grow this big," Gyle quipped. The Boy Pickay name, which is derived to Orono's family, also has a great story and has
